

For Sprains

Sloan's Liniment is the best remedy for sprains and bruises. It quiets the pain at once, and can be applied to the tenderest part without hurting because it doesn't need to be rubbed—all you have to do is to lay it on lightly. It is a powerful preparation and penetrates instantly—relieves any inflammation and congestion, and reduces the swelling.

Here's the Proof.

Mr. L. ROLAND, Bishop of Scranton, Pa. says:—"On the 7th of this present month, as I was leaving the building at noon for lunch, I slipped and fell, spraining my wrist. I returned in the afternoon, and at four o'clock I could not hold a pencil in my hand. I returned home later and purchased a bottle of and used it five or six times before I went to bed, and the next day I was able to go to work and use my hand as usual."

Sloan's Liniment is an excellent antiseptic and germicidal—kills cuts, burns, wounds and contusions, and will draw the poison from stings of poisonous insects.

PASS BILL TO MAKE MAYORS WALK CHALK

Black Measure Draws Full Dry Strength In House.

Columbus, O., Feb. 25.—The house passed the Black bill, providing for the removal of Ohio mayors who fail to enforce the law, who are guilty of bribery, immorality or drunkenness. Considerable interest was taken in the house's action because the charge was frequently made that the enforcement and nonenforcement of liquor laws has rested with mayors, who followed the bidding of one interest or the other. There were 70 votes for the Black bill, which number is said to approximate the dry voting strength of the house. Mayors may be tried on the sworn complaint of 10 citizens by either a common pleas judge or the governor. If by the latter, there is no appeal to the courts. Among the bills passed by the house was one by Mr. Kellar of Lucas county, reorganizing naval militia and placing it on the same relation to the United States army as the state militia is with the United States army.

Columbus, O., Feb. 26.—A detailed report of his investigation of the regime of former State Printer Mark Slater, filed with the Beatty graft probe committee by State Examiner E. F. Armour Takes Indictment as Incident of Latest Fad.

Chicago, Feb. 26.—"It seems to be the popular thing now to whack at the packers," said J. Ogden Armour, president of Armour & Company, and a director of the National Packing company, when shown a report of his indictment in New Jersey. "All I know about this matter is what I read in the papers, and there is nothing for me to say about it. I must refer you to our attorneys."

Alfred R. Ulfon, head of the legal department of Armour & Company, said that a conference would probably be called today or tomorrow to discuss the indictments, but that so far none had been arranged.

The Problem Of Perpetual Happiness Is Solved

By The Priestess Of "The New Thought"

Principal Of School Is Fined By Court

A "Mole" Story That Is Certainly A Peach

New York, February 26.—What is the use of worrying over the high cost of living, the greed of trusts, the corruptness of politicians, poor health and equally poor business, when everybody, by a simple trick can be happy and attain anything he or she may wish? The problem of perpetual happiness has been solved at last and Mrs. Julia S. Ton Sears has done it. She is a priestess of The New Thought and those who had the opportunity to hear her at the New Thought Matinee at the Belasco theatre the other afternoon were surprised when she explained to them how easy it is to be perfectly happy. Why, any child can do it. All you have to do is to close your eyes, breathe deeply and concentrate your mind upon whatever you desire, be it health, wealth or a new automobile. If you keep it up long enough you are sure to get all you wish, perhaps even more. There were several hundred men and women in the audience at Mrs. Sears' matinee and all of them shut their eyes, breathed deeply and, presumably, concentrated their minds upon their individual pet wishes. This period of New Thought exercise lasted about fifteen minutes and if the people in the audience did not keep up their deep breathing and concentration long enough to "bring their vibrations in harmony with their aura," whatever that may mean. Mrs. Sears says she knows, but for some reason or other she won't tell, or at least not that other persons can understand it.

A jury in supreme justice marcan's court got itself into serious trouble the other day by discharging itself in the most nonchalant manner. The jury had been sitting all afternoon and part of the afternoon in a suit over a contract. At four o'clock in the afternoon the jury retired and three hours later they informed the court officer in charge of them that they had "agreed," and handed to him a "sealed verdict." As customary in such cases the jurors were then permitted to go home. The following morning the jurors were all present at the opening of the court and the foreman handed to the judges the "sealed verdict." On opening the document the judge was astounded to behold the words: "Jury unable to agree." Then the court proceeded to say things to the jurors who had "agreed to disagree" because they wanted to get home for their supper. Justice Marcan ordered the jurors to appear before him next Monday to show cause why they should not be punished for contempt of court.

The principal of the Manhattan schools was fined $500 the other day by the Elementary Schools committee of the board of education for holding two positions and neglecting his school duties. It appeared that the principal referred to for the last two or three years had served not only as principal of his school, with a salary of $3,500 a year, but had also served as a condemnation commissioner for the city, in which capacity he drew a salary of $7,530 a year. It was found that the versatile "educator" had attended 800 meetings of the condemnation commission on school days, nearly 100 of which occurred between 9 and 12 o'clock and 1 and 3 o'clock, and to attend them he had to leave his school, thereby neglecting his duties. Considering the fact that he can well afford to pay a fine of $500 every year and continue to hold both positions, without paying any more attention to his school duties than heretofore. And yet there are some people who fondly imagine that "pull" counts for naught with the board of education.

An enterprising New York correspondent sent out a story the other day which deserves a place of honor among the boldest canards that ever found their way from the Metropolis into the columns of unsophisticated country newspapers. The yarn was of a woman with a mole in her chest. According to the writer, who is either a powerful bidder for membership in the Ananias club or for a padded cell in Bellevue hospital, the woman swallowed the mole when it was very young, without knowing that she had done so. The animal continued to live and thrive and finding the stomach too close quarters made its way into the woman's chest, where it continued to live for several years. Lately—only lately—so the correspondent stated, the presence of the full grown mole in her chest caused some slight inconvenience to the woman and she consulted a doctor. The learned disciple of Aesculapius at once diagnosed the case as "mole-itis" and promptly amputated or otherwise surgically removed the mole, to the utmost relief of the mole-ridden patient. She is doing well now, thank you.

Whether it is a scarcity of news owing to the absence from the United States of Theodore Roosevelt, or some other reason, that prompts correspondents to send out similar yarns, is difficult to determine. Usually these yarns make their appearance in print simultaneously with sea-serpent stories during the broiling "dog-days," but this year they are coming, like Easter, a little ahead of time. Another capital yarn was that sent out by an Ithaca correspondent, saying that experiments at the poultry department of the New York State College of Agriculture had proven that by feeding certain dye stuffs to hens during the moulting season not only their feathers but also their eggs may be given any color desired. However, the color of the eggs always matches that of the plumage. In the future the tedious and often unsatisfactory task of dyeing Easter eggs may be entirely dispensed with. The hens may be made to lay eggs of any desired color. Just think, what a brilliant display hens will make at poultry shows of the future!

The vagaries of a diseased mind are unaccountable, indeed. There are scores of patients in various lunatic asylums who imagine themselves to be Napoleon, St. Peter or John D. Rockefeller, but it was left to a woman in this city to establish a new record of lunacy. The woman is wealthy and, although as thin as the proverbial rail, is laboring under the delusion that she is too fat. To keep her from killing herself by "training down" and swallowing large quantities of "reducing" medicines she had to be sent to an asylum.

ENJOYABLE MEETING

Of The W. H. M. Society Of The Gay Street M. E. Church

The W. H. M. S. of the M. E. church held its regular meeting for February with Mrs. D. B. Herron. A goodly number was in attendance. Mrs. Reeder read an article on the "Day of Prayer for Home Missions", which is Feb. 24, 1910.

Singing, "God Wins in a Mysterious Way."

Prayer—Mrs. Creveling and Dickerson.

Scripture lesson—Mrs. Reeder. Dr. Reeder then gave us a good talk on the different kind of people the society must work with—Indians, negroes and foreigners.

A hymn was read by Mrs. Reeder. The subject of the lesson was the "Bondsman" and was turned over to the leader, Mrs. M. Allen, who had prepared an excellent program, which was as follows:

"Bondsman"—The third chapter was given by Mrs. Allen and was listened to with much interest.

Duet, "Thy Will Be Done"—Misses Ireen Cochran and Ruby Huntsberger.

Autobiography of B. T. Washington—Mrs. Thomas Weir.

Duet, "The King's Business"—Misses Cochran and Huntsberger.

"How Freedom Came to Me"—Miss Florence Walker.

Mr. Herron gave an interesting talk on "Ritter Home" that he had visited when in the South.

Business was then taken up. Minutes read and approved. Several members reported sick. Society sends their sympathy. Queen Esthers organized with twenty members and 5 honary members by Mrs. Gorsuch. The O. W. U. banquet was then discussed and was decided. The W. H. M. S. serve the banquet the 23d of March. Ladies don't forget the date. Make no engagements.

Delicious refreshments were served by the committee.

Next meeting will be with Mrs. J. Burris on E. Vine street the second Wednesday in March.

CONVINCING PROOF

OF THE VIRTUE OF Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

What is the use of procrastinating in the face of such evidence as the following letters represent? If you are a sick woman or know one who is, what sensible reason have you for not giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial? For 30 years we have been publishing such testimonial letters as these—thousands of them—they are genuine and honest, too, every one of them.

Mrs. S. J. Barber says:

"I think Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the best medicine in the world for women—and I feel it my duty to let others know the good it has done for me."

Three years ago I had a tumor which the doctor said would have to be removed by an operation or I could not live more than a year, or two, at most. I wrote Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for advice, and took 14 bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and today the tumor is gone and I am a perfectly well woman. I hope my testimonial will be of benefit to others.—Mrs. S. J. BARBER, Scott, N. Y.

Mrs. George May says:

"No one knows what I have suffered from female troubles, neuralgia pains, and backache. My doctor said he could not give me anything to cure it. Through the advice of a friend I began to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and the pain soon disappeared. I continued its use and am now in perfect health. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been a God-send to me as I believe I should have been in my grave if it had not been for Mrs. Pinkham's advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. GEORGE MAY, 84 4th Ave., Paterson, N. J.

Mrs. E. F. Hayes says:

"I was under the doctor's treatment for a fibroid tumor, suffering with pain, soreness, bloating, and could not walk or stand on my feet any length of time. I wrote to Mrs. Pinkham for advice, followed her directions and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. To-day I am a well woman, the tumor was expelled and my whole system strengthened. I advise all women who are afflicted with tumors or female troubles to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. E. F. HAYES, 1800 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

Mrs. W. K. Housh says:

"I have been completely cured of a severe female trouble by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and want to recommend it to all suffering women."—Mrs. W. K. HOUSH, 7 East Union Ave., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Because your case is a difficult one, doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has cured many cases of female ill, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, etc.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ill. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

MISCREANT

Threw Beer Bottles Through A Window

At Home Of John Magill On Jackson Street

It is alleged by Mr. John Magill, who resides on South Jackson street, that an attempt to injure him was made by some person or persons on Friday night. Mr. Magill states that about 9 o'clock when he was preparing to retire, a beer bottle came crashing through the window, narrowly missing him. Hastily putting on his shoes, he started for the door in order to attempt to capture or identify the miscreant who threw the bottle. Just then a second bottle was thrown through another window into the same room. Mr. Magill states that he saw the man and that he was running away in great haste. It is thought that the bottle throwing was a piece of spite work and that an effort was made to injure or badly frighten the man in the room.

Magill appeared before Squire Harter Saturday morning in an attempt to have the affair traced up, but as the identity of the vandal was not known, no action could be taken.

The Milford W. C. T. U. met at the home of Mrs. Leda Coe Cornell Thursday afternoon. Despite the zero weather there was a good attendance and a very enthusiastic meeting was held. Rev. E. J. Converse of Columbus was among the visitors. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. S. Collins.
